

The teachers at SEVA instruct students in the theoretical foundations and practical skills of their respective fields. The low student/faculty ratio creates a challenging atmosphere by allowing for individual attention and guidance. The faculty encourages each student to think and work creatively, and stresses self-reliance and resourcefulness. Such an environment allows the students' potential to unfold to the fullest capacity.

Officers Of The School Of Environmental And Vocational Arts

The classes and internship programs described in this brochure are administered by the following officers:

President
David Pomerantz

Administrator
David Crismond

Secretary
Lois Slade

Treasurer
Christine Radoccia

Bursar
John Kukor

